

THE ELECTION TICKETS.

The APPEAL objects to the Australia ballots being printed at the State Printing Office, on the ground that that institution was not intended as a competitor for private enterprises. Certainly it was not. It was instituted for the purpose of doing the public printing of the State, of which certainly should be classed the printing of the tickets for general elections. It is a matter of fact that the work of most of the tickets used at the last election was either wholly or partially done in California, and in our opinion, the law limiting the State Printing Office to State work was not intended for the benefit of California job printers, although such is the effect of prohibiting the ticket printing being done in that establishment. The point attempted to be made by the APPEAL that the State Office might as well be permitted to print letter and bill heads for private individuals, is no point at all. That is private work, and besides every newspaper office in the State is equipped to execute it, while they have not the necessary perforating plants for doing the ticket work. While it is true that all could be furnished with the necessary material, it would be a losing business, for the little use for it would not justify the outlay. The law, as it stands at present, is directly in the interest of California job printing establishments. —Gazette.

The Gazette does not understand what it is talking about.

There is not a newspaper office in the State which could not get the necessary machinery for printing the tickets for $30.

When it says that the bill is in the interest of California job printers, it shows that the Gazette editor has never read the bill.

It provides that the tickets must all be printed inside the State of Nevada. It is a home industry bill and aimed to prevent the California job offices hogging the work as they did last fall.

Our Unfriendly Neighbor.

Vann's resolution favoring free coinage was defeated in the California assembly to day. If half of the Nevada money which has been invested in California was to be withdrawn the golden State wouldn't have money enough in her treasury to pay the per diem of one half of the assessors now congregated in her Capitol building. —Reno Gazette.

California should be boycotted by the people of this State in every conceivable way, and especially old foggy San Francisco. A large city must of necessity have a not inconsiderable country back of it, and the relations between the city and the country must be reciprocal, yet San Francisco has acted as though she could not see how a prosperous outlying country could possibly benefit her. When the people of a city improve every opportunity to injure a country tributary to it, it is plain they do not know in which direction their interests lay, while a people who continue to return good for evil know even less. —White Pine News.

General Beauregard.

P. G. T. Beauregard, who died recently at New Orleans, was the last but one of the full General of the Southern Confederacy. The main facts of his life are pretty well known. He was more of an engineer than a military commander. He showed fair capacity in the field in Virginia and Tennessee, but his defense of Charleston and Petersburg were his chief military achievements.

He commanded at Bulls Run where the North got its first severe setback. Jeff Davis was jealous of him and kept him down. After the war he filled various civil positions in Louisiana. His connection with the Louisiana lottery was generally considered at the North to have been a mistake, but it does not appear to have affected his standing among his friends in the South. His being at the head of the company assured the public that the drawings would be honest.

A number of numerous bills are introduced allowing leave of absence for various county officers. The request for leave is always granted. It is a great waste of legislative time. Why not pass a bill empowering the County Commissioners of each county to grant leaves of absence and save so much useless red tape?

A Mighty Fire.

No one should miss the Revival Meetings held in the Methodist Church each night this week. A great work of grace is in progress.

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.

Dissolution of Copartnership.
